The San Diego-Imperial Center of Excellence for Labor Market Research (COE) developed this brief to assist the region's community colleges with strategic planning and program development. According to available labor market information, Medical Assistants in Imperial County have a labor market demand of 40 annual job openings (while average demand for a single occupation in Imperial County is 14 annual job openings), and one educational institution in Imperial County supplies 22 awards for this occupation, suggesting that there is a supply gap in the labor market. Entry-level wages are slightly below the living wage for this occupation. This brief recommends that the colleges proceed with caution when developing a new program for this occupation and supports a program modification because 1) there is a supply gap and 2) entry-level wages are slightly below the living wage. The colleges should note that expected level of education for this occupation is a postsecondary non-degree award and Imperial Valley College is the only institution that provides awards in the region. The colleges should also note that the percentage of students who complete a related program and earn a living wage is lower than the percentage of students who complete Career Education programs in general across the state.

Introduction

This report provides labor market information in Imperial County for the following occupational code in the Standard Occupational Classification (SOC)¹ system:

Demand vs. Supply

Comparing labor demand (annual openings) with labor supply⁷ suggests a supply gap for this occupation in Imperial County, with 40 annual openings and 22 awards. Comparatively, there are 12,334 annual openings in California and 13,285 awards, suggesting that there is an oversupply across the state⁸ (Exhibit 5).

Exhibit 5: Labor Demand (Annual Openings) Compared with Labor Supply (Average Annual Awards)

Community Colleges and Other Postsecondary Educational Institutions	Demand (Annual Openings)	Supply (Total Annual Average Supply)	Supply Gap or Oversupply
Imperial	40	22	18
California	12,334	13,285	951

Please note: This is a basic analysis of supply and demand of labor. The data does not include workers currently in the labor force who could fill these positions or workers who are not captured by publicly available data. This data should be used to discuss the potential gaps or oversupply of workers; however, it should not be the only basis for determining whether or not a program should be developed.

⁷ Labor supply can be found from two different sources: EMSI or the California Community Colleges Chancellor's Office MIS Data Mart. EMSI uses CIP codes while MIS uses TOP codes. Different coding systems result in differences in the supply numbers.
